Lt. Carr, recalled by Mr. Hamilton, and examined through the Judge Advocate.

Q.—Did you hand to Lt. Wilkes the paper now shown you, being an application from the petty officers that Peter Sweeney should be discharged? State all you know on the subject.

A.—Yes. On the moraing Peter Sweeney was to be punished by sentence of Court Martial, it was handed to me by Richmond, and the chief boatswain's mate of the ship, heading a delegation of petty officers. After the man had been punished alongside the Vincennes, and while the crew were yet on deck, I handed this paper to the commander. I saw Richmond's name on it, written by whom I do not know. I ought to say, perhaps, I myself also recommended the commander to discharge him for his conduct on board. I did not see any of the men sign the paper. It was read, however, in presence of the crew, when those men were present, and none dissented, to my knowledge.

Q.—Will you state w at was the condition of the Vincennes at Honolulu, when the marines, Dinsman and others, were sent to the fort for confinement?

A.—The ship was laying aboard, with her stern finement?

A.—The ship was laying aboard, with her stern fast on shore, close to the wharf. My impression is—I do know those marines were sent to the fort—at that time some of the guard were on shore on liberty, and therefore when they were confined forward in the brig there was not a strict guard kept over them, as there would have been if all the guard had been on board. Q.—Were you the first lieutenant of the ship?

A.-I was. Q.-Had men deserted from the brig at that place ?

A.—I do not recollect.
Q.—Had not some of the men confined in the brig
"got drunk?"
A.—Repeatedly.
Q.—Was not the fort the place where the Consul's men were usually confined as prisoners?

A.—Yes.
Q. By Court—Was the tort infested by vermin?

A.—I never was in the fort but once, and then I saw nothing of the kind.

Q. By Mr. Hamilton—Why was Dinsman separated from the other prisoners in the fort?

A.—I don't recollect, if I ever knew.

Q.—Was Smith separated from the others, and why?

why?

A.—I do n't know that he was separated from the others. I was never at the fort while they were confined there.

Q.—How long was the squadron at Callao, what fined there.

Q.—How long was the squadron at Callao, what duty was going forward, and was it such as to constantly occupy the time of the officers and crew?

A.—We arrived at Callao, by the log, on June20th, and sailed July 13th, and remained there twenty-three days. The duty going on was preparing the ship for a long cruize, and the men and officers were employed accordingly. The officers were so arranged that while a portion of them was employed on board ship, the others were employed at the island of San Lorenzo, making magnetic and meteorological observations, measuring the beighth of the island by barometers, and boats were dredging for shells. As to going ashore, we were allowed two days to go to Lima. On July the 24 we went over to Callao—we had been lying at San Lorenzo before this time—when as many were allowed to go on shore as could be spared. I speak now of sea officers, I don't know so much of medical officers.

Q.—Was not the Relief about returning to the United States, and was there not a change of officers made?

A.—She was. There was a change of officers, and the crew were employed a portion of the time in loading her with provisions.

Q.—Was not every exertion made to get to sea as soon as possible?

A.—I thought there was; my orders were to that effect.

Q.—Could a Court Martial have been convened there without great delay, and a serious injury to effect.

Q.—Could a Court Martial have been convened there without great delay, and a serious injury to the public service?

A.—There would have been a delay, but I don't know about the public service.

Q.—Was the squadron, while at Sydney, being constantly prepared for the Antractic cruize of December, 1839?

A.—Yes.
Q.—Did the fitting out, during the delay at Sydney, require the constant attention of the officers and men?

A.—Not of the whole of them. Of the principal officers and men of the crew it did.

Q.—Could officers have been spared from the squadron at Sydney for a Court Martial without great delay?

great delay?

A.—I think not.

Q.—Did Dr. Fox mess in the steerage of the Vincennes after he was ordered to act as surgeon?

A.—Before he received the written appointment he did. Afterwards he messed in the wardroom. He was appointed at Honolulu, after Dr. Guillou was arrested.

Q.—Were all hands always called when punishment was inflicted?

ment was inflicted?

A.—I cannot say always—it was the general practice. I don't speak of the first part of the cruize—only when I was first lieutenant, from the 6th June, 1839, to 26th October, 1841.

The Court adjourned till Wednesday morning at 10 o'cleck.

Court of Common Pleas,

Before Judge Ulshoeffer.

Aug. 30.—Charles Henson vs. Henry D. Loomis,

Joseph E. Ayres and Samuel Foster.—The firm of Newman & Foster, livery stable keepers, corner Broome and Mercer streets, was dissolved in June, 1841. Newman took the stock and stand, binding himself to pay the debts of the establishment, and giving Foster four notes of $50 each, secured by a mortgage on the horses, cabs, &c., for his share of the concern. In March last, Foster and Ayres (two of the defendants) on a balance due the former on the mortgage, and a demand against the firm held by the other, got out writs against Newman, which were served by Mr. Loomis, and three cabs, two horses, and some harness, taken to the bazaar, and sold. The plaintiff (who was coachman to Mr. Hamilton Wilkes) claims to have bought the property of Newman, and exhibited a bill of sale to that effect for $500. He brings the present action of trover to recover the value of the stock levied upon, and the question now is, was the sale to him bona me and Mercer streets, was dissolved in Ju and the question now is, was the sale to him bona fide, or merely a cover on the part of Newman to defraud his creditors. Henson claims, in addition to have tendered the amount due on the mortgage, but that it was refused. It appeared in evidence, that Newman requested several persons during the sale not to bid, as the property belonged to him. The Court charged that the question of fraud must be decided by the jury on the testimony that had been presented. In relation to a tender on a mortgage, it was not sufficient that a party represented and the question now is, was the sale been presented. In relation to a tender on a mortgage, it was not sufficient that a party represented himself as having the money, he must really produce it in full, with interest, make a tender of it, and be able to present evidence that such had been refused, before he could render the mortgage invalid. The case was conducted with much earnestness by counsel, and a capital jury was on, who, after a few minutes absence, rendered a verdict for defendants.
For plaintiff, Messrs. W. H. Ball and F. A. Coe.
For defendants, Mr. Thomas Warner.
Before Judge Ingraham.

Seth Perry, Thos. R. Ransom, and others (owners of ship Gov. Cass) vs. Johnson & Louden.—The defendants established a regular line of packets between Savannah and New York, and, although they owned no vessels themselves, made a fine business of it by inducing those who did to put their vessels in the line. They conducted their business well, in the line. They conducted their business well, became popular among the merchants, and their ships commanded a much higher price for freight and passengers than transient vessels obtained. In and passengers than transient vessels obtained. 1836 they agreed with plaintiffs to put their vessel 1836 they agreed with plaintiffs to put their vessel on the line, and receive a certain per centage on the freight, passengers, &c. After going 2 or 3 trips, the Gov. Cass arrived at New York in August, 1837, when Mr. Johnson requested that the ship might be kept in readiness for an immediate start, as she would probably be the next in turn. Accordingly the sails were kept bent, the crv w continued on board, and every thing done agreeably to order. After lying here thirty or forty days, however, the defendants substituted the ship Newark, and threw the Gov. Cass out of the line, after which she was compelled to go as a transient vessel, receiving only Gov. Cass out of the line, after which she was compelled to go as a transient vessel, receiving only $900 for the same freight that $1300 would have been paid for, had she remained as a packet. Action was brought to recover compensation for expences incurred while lying here, and a verdict was rendered in favor of plaintiffs. An appeal was made to the Supreme Court, who sent the case back for a new trial, which resulted as before. Another appeal was had, and the case again sent back.

Now the issue. The Jury sustained the former decisions, giving a verdict in favor of plaintiffs for $5500.

For plaintiffs, Mr. Charles Sherwood. For defendants, Mr. Clarkson and Mr. Bidwell.

Adjournment of Congress.

The hard-eider, log cabin, coon-skin Congress adjourns to-day. A more unprofitable, absurd, mischievous body of men never before was sent upon any country as a punishment for its sins and folly The celebrated Long Parliament in England cannot compete with the hard-cider Congress in folly, imbecility, and intrigue. They commenced a war upon the President from the jump, and they have closed the past year and a half of their existence in utter defeat, and disruption. They have failed in all their leading measures, and abandoned every principle of their faith. In attempting to "head off aptain Tyler, they have only headed toff themthemselves. After solemnly pronouncing the President an imbecile, a weak man, a traitor, a fool, they have swallowed their own words by wholesale, and have been routed, horse, toot, and dragoons. We have a permanent peace with England, placed on the basis of the new treaty-and a new tariff, without the distribution, in spite of all their efforts by intrigue to defeat them.

Such another Congress never before met in Washington, and such another we will not see in many a PRESIDENTIAL MOVEMENTS, &c.-We learn that Captain Tyler will not visit the north this season. He goes to Virginia on special business. But if the old Captain cannot be with us, the young Captain, Robert Tyler, will be here in a couple of weeks, to look after the odds and ends in these parts.

We certainly want one of the Captains here. we have six or seven "third parties" here, and we want to know which is the true one-which has the right hand. First, there is the "Patriots," headed by Col. A. Hamilton and Peter Thompson; second, the "Old Democracy," or old elo' party, headed by Noah, Redwood Fisher and Beach; third, the "Young Democracy," headed by Mike Walsh; fourth, "the old Indian Contract party," headed by Daniel Jackson; fifth, the "Hickory Democratic Republican Tyler party," headed by Tom Teale and Bill Brown. There are besides several others in the bud, ready to burst in a few days. Which is which?

TROUBLE IN THE DEMOCRACY.—The "young democracy" is producing a prodigious fermentation in this city, in favor of John C. Calhoun.

We are told that Mr. Bouck, the candidate for Governor, is in favor of the Carolinian-also that nine out of the thirteen delegates to the Syraeuse Convention are of the same way of thinking. The old democracy, the friends of Mr Van Buren, are in a terrible stew. At the fall elections, resolutions in favor of Calhoun will be passed in every ward in the city by the "young democracy"—and probably a great agitation be knocked up in Tammany Hall The "young democracy" say—"we do not want the Bourbons restored." "Down with all the old bankers and old defaulters." "No restoration of the old rogues to office."

We will have whirlwind times pretty soon. things go as they seem, we shall have to turn to and support poor Van out of pure charity.

THE LEGISLATURE .- Our legislators in this State appear to be imitating Congress. They have done nothing yet, and we fear that they will not do any thing but talk. The Senate meet from day to day, talk about the Erie Railroad, and adjourn. The Assemblymen talk for hours about apportioning the State, but do nothing. They now propose to unit Tioga with Broome and Chenango, in order to de feat Mr. John C. Clarke. And Mr. Stetson has moved to amend the report of the Select Committee so that the following districts should be thus composed :-

Washington and Saratoga.
 Essex, Warren and Clinton.
 St. Lawrence and Franklin.

But as yet nothing definite has been accor

THEATRICALS.—The fall season in theatricals is now begun. The Park - the Chatham - the Olympic will also be open.

Things theatrical are in a very curious conditio indeed. On Monday the Park opened, under the new regime, a reduction of prices equal to an average of 30 per cent from the rates of the last half century. What a revolution! In fact every thing is coming down, prices, pride, salaries, and salads. The proprietors of the small daily press first made the movement, and all must submit to a bette system, more enterprise-low rates, and economica habits. On the first night the Park had $400 and cleared $150-the second night much the same. If this holds out, the change will be successful. There is yet much more expenditure that might be retrenched-only print your advertisements in two or three papers of the largest circulation. The money paid to the Wall street prints is so much threw away. This saving would be equal to $500 a sea

The success of the Park at reduced prices, and great novelty, will knock up the Olympic as the Chatham has done the Bowery. On Monday night the Bowery had $24 121 precisely, while the Chatham was crowded to suffocation. What a contras this presents! The Park has a capital companybesides expecting several stars from Europe. We are certain that, in the course of the season, several superior artists will be out, besides a danseuse ; but whether it will be Cerito, Duvernay, or Taglioni we are not authorized to say. There are $50,000 ready, in the next ten years, for any fine danseuse that may come. Fanny Elssler took $80,000-bu that was the cream.

GRAND PICK NICK AT THE NAVY YARD .- COMM dore Perry gave a grand pick nick yesterday afternoon at the Navy Yard. The Hon. John Barney of Baltimore, His Excellency Governor Davis, of Coney Island, and a number of distinguished Nava officers and strangers were present. Major Barney returns to Rockaway to-day, where for a week par he has been the soul and life of the place. He fin ishes the week at that watering place. Apropos.—We have an interesting account to give of the gaieties of Rockaway, with several important documents recently put in our hands. Hundreds are still going there-the last ball and hop will be given on Friday

SARATOGA SPRINGS - This watering place on So urday, Sunday and Monday last was more crowder han ever. Among the numerous arrivals we fine Mrs. Cass, the lady of the American Minister at Paris, with her son and two daughters. Also the tachés of Lord Ashburton from Niagara Falls.

REMOVALS AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE .- Yesterday Collector Curtisremoved thirteen night watchmen and several day officers. They were the most noisy of the ultras, Clay'or Van Buren. We understand that these vacancies will de filled with democrate of the Tyler-Calhoun School. Several of Mike Walsh's men have received appointments. The fur now begins.

WAR .- Is General James Arlington Bennet ready to obey the order of his superior, and march to Nauvoo? As for myself. I mean to consult Colone Webb and his leg, and see if there is no hole to creep out at.

ARRIVAL OF LORD ASHBURTON-GRAND LEVER IN THE CITY HALL.-The Right Honorable Lord Ash burton, Special Minister Plenipotentiary of her most gracious Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Great Britain, Ireland, Hindostan, the Canadas, West Indies, &c., containing a population of 125,679,000 souls of all colors, arrived in the steamer Albany, which was decorated with the American and Bri ish colors) yesterday afternoon from Albany, and ook apartments at the Astor House, where he will ojourn for a week, His Lordship was accompanied by Lord John Hay, and also joined at Albany by Messrs. Dillon Bruce, Mildmay, attachés, who had just arrived from Saratoga and Niagara. To-day his Lordship will hold a grand levée between 11 and 1 o'clock, at the Governor's rooms, City Hall, in the Park, at tended by all the British authorities of this port.— His Honor the Mayor and their Hozors the Aldermen, will be present: also such of the French com-missioners and officers of the Gomeras are in town.

This will be a great occasion. It has a sort of national character. Lord Ashburton, representing the sovereign of Great Britain, will be most happy to shake hands and wish good luck and a long and prosperous reign to the sovereigns of the "great republic." It is a sort of a meeting between the father and son—between the mother and the daughter—between honest old John Bull and the brawny-armed, long-legged Jonathan, his eldest son, who with the bravery, blood and indomitable perseverance of the old chip, adds to it all the freshness, life, gaiety, and recklessness of a young chip who has just go through sowing his wild oats. It will be the greatest scene that ever the sun shone down upon from his eternal mansions in the sky. So, 'don't burst with delight, but go and do the thing with propriety and decorum. His Lordship will also hold a private levée at the Astor House to-morrow, between the hours eleven and one o'clock, principally to see his old personal friends, and perchance the ladies. In the evening the grand dinner takes place, over which the Hon. Peter A. Jay presides. The peace of the world must be preserved, and war put down.

[Correspondence of the Herald.]

ALBANY, August 29, 1842. The Assembly have at last resumed the considera tion of the specific object of the session again; and to-day have made considerable progress therein. The bill was gone through with in committee of the whole, and reported to the House; and the ques tion comes up to-morrow on ordering it to a third reading. It has been materially amended in committee of the whole, and is now much improved. A good deal of debate ensued on the districting of the good deal of debate ensued on the districting of the northern tier of counties, which was confined principally to the members from that section. The bill, as reported by the committee of eight, recommended the following arrangement:—Washington and Essex—Saratoga, Fulton and Warren—Montgomery, Schenectady and Schoharie—Herkimer, Hamilton, Franklin and Clinton—St. Lawrence and Lewis. As amended by the committee of the whole, these counties are now arranged as follows:—Washington and Saratoga—Warren, Essex and Clinton—St. Lawrence and Franklin—Herkimer, Lewis, Hamilton and Fulton—Montgomery, Schenectady and Schoharie.

A very spiey, piquant, and personal debate sprung up in the course of the discussion between Mr. O'Sullivan, and Mr. D. S. Wright of Washington.

In the Senate to open the business of the session to the consideration of a bill to repeal the exemption law, was again taken up, and, on motion of Mr. Ruger, laid on the table. 14 to 11. Another resolution from the Assembly, for opening the business of the session to the introduction of a bill to correct a clerical error in a law passed at the last session, relative to proceedings in Chancery, was concurred in. An attempt was made to induce the Senate to consideration to the introduction of a bill to correct a clerical error in a law passed at the last session, relative to the New York and Erie Railroad, but was not successful.

Lord Ashburton and suite, and Lord John Hay, arrived in this city this evening from Boston, and took lodgings at Congress Hall.

We have now the strangest kind of weather—alternate heavy showers and bright scorching sunshne throughout the day, and damp heavy fogs in the morning. Very healthy all this, indeed.

SOFT SITTING-CLEAN, TOO .- Sofas and chairs, overed with the ordinary species of hair, spoil the white dresses of the ladies very much. THE FLORIDA WAR.-Since Col. Worth left there has been an outbreak on the Aucilla, and the war is as far from being ended now as ever, to all appearances. SINGULAR OCCURRENCE.—Two letters addressed to Mr. John Blake, Treasurer of the Park Theatre, New Orleans, instead of New York, were forwarded to that city, owing to this misdirection, and remained in the post office there for several months. At length they were taken out of the New Orleans post office, by some one unauthorised so to do.—The letters referred to enclosed papers of importance to Mr. Blake and his family only, and it is to be hoped that the possessor will send them to him properly directed to New York, or if they should have been destroyed, Mr. B. desires that he may be informed by letter, anonymously, or otherwise, of their contents.

Will our contemporaries of New Orleans oblige Mr. Blake, by noticing the above paragraph in their

Joe Smith and the Mormons,

Last night there was a large assembly at the church, corner of Christie and Delancy streets, to hear General Bennett and Origin Bachelor on the above subject. The principal part of the audience were ladies, most of them young and exceedingly beautiful in face and figure. The debate commenced at a quarter past 7, and ended at a quarter past 10. No one spoke but the above two.

beautiful in face and figure. The debate commenced at a quarter past 10. No one spoke but the above two.

Mr. Baentlor rose and said:—It is by the request of Gen. Bennett that I appear here, to take part in exposing the impostures of the Mormons—that dangerous and miserable imposition—as dangerous as it possibly can be to the country and the government. The general opinion is that Mormonism is a humbug, but that it is so frivilous that no one will be deceived by it, except a few weak minded persons; and that it will soon pass away. If this were all it might be left to the clergy to dispose of. But if we show that Mormonism is bloody and treasonous against the United States Government—a species of American Mahomedanism—that seeks to overthrow the government of the country and the destruction of all who do not embrace it, by the most diabolical means in the world—if we show this, it is worthy the serious attention of all. It has no parallel in the annals of history for its diabolical nature. Whenever a member of their church leaves them they go on and slander him or her in the most awful manner.—They did so with Gen. Bennett—before he left them he was a tort of God—he was one of the three Gods, of which Joe Smith was one. Anly yet they want to have him assassinated and exterminated, as they want to exterminate all that do not embrace to Govennuts of the Mormons, "compiled by Joe Smith, Sydney Rigdon and others, professing to be full of revelatious direct from God. And the Mormons believe that hereafter they shall be equal to God and create worlds. This book contains an injunction not to let it go abroad to the world, or to tell its secrets. (He read from page 132, paragraph 7.) You can't buy this book of the Mormons, "compiled by Joe Smith, Sydney Rigdon and others, professing to be full of revelatious direct from God. And the Mormons believe that hereafter they shall be equal to God and create worlds. This book contains an injunction not to let it go abroad to the world, or to tell its secrets. (He read from pag take its course. I now have the pleasure of introducing to you General Bennett, Major General of the Nauvoo Legion.

On this Gen. Bennett rose, smiling, and bowed to the audience, particularly to the ladies, among whom there was a great sensation, and shuffling of feet, and changing of position, to get a sight of one of the Mormon lions.

Grax. Brankurt said,—I discover, in the "Morning Herald" of this day, a military order issued from Nauvoo to General James Arlington Rennett, and General James Gordon Bennett, requiring them to appear forthwith at Nauvoo, and take part in the coming struggle. (Applause and great laughter). (Here he read the order which we published yesterday.) To this order General James Gordon Bennett says, in his editorial remarks, with a good deal of skrewdness, and inimitable tact: "With regard to going out to Nauvoo immediately, we shall set cour views shortly. In the meantime, we shall see, and hear, and report what reasons General John C. Bennett can advance to night in his discourse, that may prevent us from standing by Joe Smith, until, as he says, blood shall flow." Thus it appears that the learned and talented aid de camp, even, it appears that the learned and talented aid de camp, even, it appears that the learned and talented aid de camp, even, it appears that the learned and talented aid decamp, even, it appears that the whave to say on this subject. We have no advice to give that gentleman, and he has talent enough to guide him without our assistance. (Great applause.) But I would advise General James Gordon Bennett and General James Gordon Bennett says that he shall wait and see what we have to say on this subject. We have no advice to give that gentleman, and he has talent enough to guide him without our assistance. (Great applause.) But I would advise General James Gordon Bennett and General James Gordon Bennett so be most exceedingly cautious how they go out to Nauvoo and neglect their honorable calling to do battle for that arch imposter, the Mahomet of modern times if or, such a great ruscal. And after I became the Holy Ghost in Nauvoo I passed into the secret chamber, and saw all that was done there, and how the wires were pulled, and many things too indelicate to be told to an assembly of is-

Here he went into a history of the Secret Society of Danites.

Joe Smith wanted me to come on to New York and get a new set of plates for the Book of Mormon. I asked him why. He said the Angel of the Lord had hid up all the old plates, and if we could get a new set made in New York, we could say that the Angel of the Lord had revealed them to us, and we could make a good deal of money out of them. (Roars of laughter.)

Here he read a long letter from Gen. Robinson General James Arlington Bennett, about Joe Smith's trying to seduce Nancy Rigdon, Gen. Robinson's wife's sister.

Orson Pratt said to Joe, "Sir, you are a liar; and if the heliave but Lord was to tell me you wasn't I wouldn't heliave but a said to the liar but a said to the heliave but a said to the liar but a said to the liar but a said to the liar but a said to liar to liar

Angel of the Lord was to tell me you wasn't I wouldn't believe him.

They say now that the Mormons never get drunk or swear. They must have changed mightily. For it is notorious that Joe Smith used to get beastly drunk (laughter) and fall down in the sewers of the city. And when he was rebuked he said he only did it to try the faith of the Saints, and showlem that he could get drunk it he liked, but that it went against him. (Roars of laughter.) So is the case of Miss Rigdon; when he was cornered about trying to seduce her, he said he only did it to see if so and so could be done. (Great applause and laughter.)—With regard to the secret wife system, I shall make a few remarks to-night, and a few more to-morrow night; but on Friday when there are to be no ladies present, I shall give some most peculiar, extraordinary and startling statements about the secret wife system. You read his attempt on the chastity of Miss Brotherton, in the "Hersla". Well, he said he only did that to see if things were so and so. (Laughter.) He told me he was in favor of the secret wife system, and should go it strong, (laughter,) and meant to carry it out in practice to the fullest extent. (laughter.) I shall hereafter tell how these wives(always the best looking and mest pure ones,) were set apart by the imposition of hands, and the annointing of bodies with oil, and the various manouvring and handling they underwent on these occasions. Why, Joe offered me $500 or same town lots, if I would get him Nancy Rigdon for a secret wife. And when he was confronted with her, he denied the whole, but when his love-letter to her was shown him, he confessed all; but he said he only wished to ascertain the truth if she was virtuous or not, and he took that way to prove it. (Roars of laughter, even from the ladies.) Now the Congregation of Saints at Nauvoo have pronounced Joe to be as pure as snow, but I'll show by his own love-letter to Nancy Rigdon how pure he was. e him.

Joe Shith's Love Letter to Nancy Rigdon how pure he was. Here it is and his path is virtue, uprightness, faithfulness, holiness, and keeping all the commandments of God. But we cannot keep all the commandments without first knowing them, and we cannot expect to know all, or more than we now know, unless we comply with or keep those we have already received. That which is wrong under one circumstance, may be, and often is, right under another. God said that thou shall not kill,—at another time he said thou shall atterly destroy. This is the principle on which the government of heaven is conducted—by revealation adapted to the circumstances in which the children of the kingdom are placed. Whatever God requires is right, no matter what it is, although we may not see the reason thereof till long after the events transpire. If we seek first the kingdom of God, all good things will be added. So with Solomon—first he asked wisdom, and God gave it him, and, with it every desire of his hear, even things which might be considered aborrinable to all who do not understand the order of heaven only in part, but which, in reality, were sight, because God gave and sanctioned by special revelation. A parent may whip a child, and justly too, because he stole an apple: whereas if the child had asked for the apple, and the parent had given it, the child would have eaten it with a better appetite, there would have been no attripes—all the pleasures of the apple would have been received, all the misery of stealing lost. This principle will justly apply to all of God's dealings with his children. Everything that God gives us is lawfel and right, and its proper that we should have to be designed to bestow id he shari have accommand, one under its most considered way the might have had.

"Be wise to-day, 'tis madness to defer, Next day the fatal precedent may plead Thus on till wisdom is pushed out of tin airy. Our heavenly father is more liberal believe or recieve, and at the same time is more terrible to the workers of iniquity, more awful in the executions of his punishments, and more ready to detect every false way than we are ant to suppose him to be. He will be enquired of by his children—he says ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, but if ye will take that which is not your own, or which I have not given you you shall be rewarded according to your seeds, but no good thing will I withhold from them who walk uprightly beforeine, and do my will in all things, who will listen to my voice, and to the voice of my servant whom I have sent; for I delight in those who seek diligently to know my precepts, and abide by the laws of my kingdom, for all things shall be made known anto them in mine own due time, and in the end they shall have joy."

The time has expired. To-morrow I shall show you something very peculiar in this secret wive system, as far as such peculiar things can be shown to ladies; but Friday I shall show to a congregation of men alone some most startling truths about Joe and his secret wives.

The audience then dispersed, about a quarter past ten, all apparently in high glee, particularly the ladies.

Day of Adjournment Fixed — Tariff Hill Passed-Treasury Notes-Another Veto In Anticipation.

The agony is over-the tariff bill has passed both Houses, and only requires the signature of the President to become the supreme law of the land. No doubt is entertained about the sanction of the Executive, and we shall have a tariff to which a majority of both Houses are opposed-which is against the better judgment of a majority of the people, and to which the President will assent with great reluctance. But to the exigencies of the country every thing and every body must yield some thing of prejudice, and sentiment, and feeling.

A motion in the House to lay the bill on the table was rejected by a vote of 121 to 65. The amend ments of the Senate were then concurred in by ac-

The Intelligencer of this morning contains the law in an official form, which changes the mode of furin an official form, which changes the mode of furnishing stationery, printing, twine, &c., for the departments here, and the postoffices and custominuses throughout the country. All these articles are to be furnished by contract, and by the lowest bidder. The law is distinct and explicit, and cannot be evaded, for the accounts and vouchers being sent to the Treasury and Postoffice departments here, will be accessible and convenient to a Committee of the House, and a violation of it would certainly be followed by punishment. The saving to the Government will ultimately be considerable, but for the present not much will be gained, for of many of the articles, postoffice blanks, mail bags, &c., there are enough on hand now to supply the dema during the Presidential term.

THE BROWNELL GRAPPE -This be olunteers paraded yesterday for the first time, under the command of Captain W. H. Cornell. They turned out sixty-two muskets, and presented quite a soldierlike appearance for new recruits. They proceeded to Harlem, on board the steambeat Napoleon, chartered for that purpose, and riddled a target at seventy yards, till it looked like a sieve on close aspection. The three silver cups, beautifully orna mented and chased, which were presented to the company by the Hon. Eli Moere, were won by Dennis M'Mahon, who took the first prize; John Whit taker the second; and a young man named Honeywell, the third. They were proffered to these sharp shooters by Mr. Moore, who was selected from among the judges for that purpose. A comfortable dinger at Andrew Howell's Hotel, and the company returned to the city in the Napoleon, well pleased with the day's excursion, and with each other. May they enjoy many such.

THE REGATTA AT NEWBURGH comes off this day; and persons leaving in the morning boats will arrive in time to witness it and return in the evening. It will be a splendid affair. BARNEY JONES CAUGHT .- This rougue who es caped from Blackwell's Island some few weeks since was caught yesterday by one of the deputy keepers, and sent back to quod. When do the Common Council intend to purchase property at the foot of 61st street, and thus tend materially to prevent these constant escapes of rogues from the nouse in Second street yesterday morning, enclosed in a box. The Coroner ordered it to be buried. More Rope.—Officer John Low arrested a rogue named James Wright, yesterday morning, for having in his possession two large coils of rope, which it is presumed he had stolen. The owner can find it on application to that officer, at the lower police. BURGLARY.—Two colored women, named Frances Parnell and Amelia Titus, were arrested on Monday evening, by officer Hilliker, on a charge of burglariously entering the house of Henry Boon, colored, 206 Mott street, on Monday night, and stealing a quantity of clothing, valued at $15. They were committed.

MARRIED AT THE UPPER POLICE.—Mr. Samuel J. Ferris was united in the holy bands of wedlock yesterday, to Miss Carr, by the Rev. Lott Jones. This was doing the thing as it ought to have been done, and doing justice to the recipient of his early promises.

HARROTT AND Ross.—Coming out or Prison.—Preparations are making to have these men released from prison, through the virtue of a writ of habeas corpus, and some sort of bail. The first one tries it this morning at 11 o'clock, the second as soon as his counsel is ready. Those who have been swindled must be on their guard.

Charged with Perjury.—A black fellow named Spencer Houston, who was recently steward on board of the barque Sagamore, Capt. John J. Madison, entered a charge against him in the United States Court. a few days since, for assault and battery and brutal treatment during the last voyage of the vessel. The District Attorney became so satisfied of the falsity of the complaint, as presented in his affidavit, that he abandoned the suit yesterday and sent the black rascal to prison on a charge of perjury, for which he will be fully committed.

Culpable Neglect.—A Coroner's jury was held ry, for which he will be fully committed.

CULPABLE NEGLECT.—A Coroner's jury was held yesterday on the body of the man who was killed by one of the Harlem Rail Road train of cars in the tunnel on Monday, and upon full investigation they returned a verdict in which the company is severely and very properly censured for not keeping sufficient light in the tunnel to allow the er gineer of the locomotive, or persons passing through it, time to guard against such fatal accidents. The body of this unfortunate man has not been recognized. It still remains at the dead house in the Park.

FIRE.-The fire last night was in the African Me thodist Church in Elizabeth street, between Walker and Hester streets. Nearly the whole of the building (a large frame) was destroyed.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30, 1842. MR. EDITOR-

As you will be informed, the long agony is over The Tariff Bill has passed, and is now awaiting the immortal signature of Captain Tyler, Nothing could have preduced greater joy. Every countenance beams with gladness. The mechanic and laborer who have been thrown out of employ, and were next to the contemplation of starvation, can now see through the fog that so long obstructed their hopes, and at the vista's terminus behold the fruits of industry again ripening, whilst the buds of fruits of industry again risening, whilst the buds of promise hang upon every branch and shrub. We have a report here that the bill has been signed.

The temperance meeting last evening was an overflowing one. The church was crowded from top to bottom. The New York delegation were in attendance, sung songs, gave their experience, made speeches, &c. I am told that a delegation of temperance advocates from our far-famed Mechanical Fire Company intend visiting New York, to join the great celebration, or rather procession, of the firemen, which is announced to take place in your city on the 10th of September next.

An accident happened on the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad on Saturday last, by which the cars were thrown from the track, the engineer from his post, and a passenger from Louisville, in attempting to jump through a window, was much injured.

A grand procession and celebration of the children attached to the Methodist Episcopal Sunday Schools of this city, is to take place on the 12th September next.

The City and County Conference yesterday, in opposition to the arrogant pretentions set up by the medical profession, nominated as the Democratic andidate for Coroner, Mr. Francis Brelsford, a plain but intelligent shoemaker. He will doubtless be elected, and will no doubt fulfil the duties of his office more correctly, efficiently, and satisfactorilly, than they would be if entrusted to nine out of ten of the gentlemen soliciting it on the simple ground that they hold a "parchment privilege to kill." A knowledge of the cause of the death of the many subjects that come under the notice of the Coroner, is a matter of small consideration in comparison with the other and multifarious duties of his

with the other and multifarious duties of his office.
For the last three years the office has been in the hands of a man of medical professions, and the experience of those three years has not tended to confirm the people of the propriety of sanctioning the policy of proscribing every other class of society from the office, and confining it entirely to doctors without practice—for those who have practice will not accept of it.

Augustus A. Tweeston and John H. Pollock, were yesterday afternoon committed by Mayor Scott, the former in default of $2000, and the latter in default of $3000 bail, to answer at the next term of the General Sessions, for uttering, publishing, and passing forged checks on the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, to the amount of $179 35 cents. The checks were drawn in the name of a mercantile house of this city, and two of them were paid by the Bank. When, however, a check for $79 35 was presented on last Friday, by a young man in Tweeston's employ, the forgery was discovered, the young man arrested and brought before the Mayor, where he gave the name of his employer, a tobactic of the check in payment for a lot of tobacco he had sold, and he obtained a postponement in order, as he said, to find the individual from whom he had received it. Subsequently, however, he confessed that he knew of the forgery, in fact that he and Pol-

Mr. Dorsey, bearer of despatches, has furnished the following additional information about Mexico. Mr. Dorsey, bearer of despatches, has furnished the following additional information about Mexico. He says that Santa Ana has effected important changes in the Tariff of Mexico without the assent of Congress. Many of the manufacturing establishments and merchants were anxious for the removal of the interdiction as regards the introduction of cotton, as the cotton crop has failed in Mexico.—Santa Ana determined immediately to gratify this request; accordingly the interdict was removed, but he soon discovered that he had not received a sufficient bribe, and again it was soon established; but further overtures being made to annul the interdict, and the bribe being increased, Santa Ana agreed to their propositions, and after the list of Oor.ober, it was decided, as it was generally believed, that cotton was to be imported into the country, paying a small import duty. It was also understood, that after the list day of November the interdict on the importation of bacon would be removed.

The two war steamers recently purchased are to be manaed by English officers and English scamen, and will transport to Mexico 2,000 men, all prepared for warlike purposes.

Mr. Dorsey says that as soon as difficulties thickened in relation to the United States, ministers were despatched by Mexico to all of the South American Republics soliciting succor. They held the following language: "that the United States would conquer this country, and unless you enable us to resist such aggressions as may be perpetrated by the United States, she will proceed to embrace in her mighty grasp the whole of the Southern continent." No answers to these propositions had been received from the Republics.
